MOVING PICTURE CRAZY

Wife Lost, Stolen or Strayed

BIG REWARD OFFERED.

Being as my wife has went and left me to board myself without giving enny notice whatever of her intensions of doing same, and whereas I can't find her nowhere and ain't a going to hunt for her very much fer fear I do find her, I hereby give notis to the general publick and everybuddy else that I won't be responsible for no detts whitch she makes and don't pay for.

If Sary Ann buys ennythink or borries enny money and charges it to me I WARN YOU that you do so at your own risk becuz I won't pay it.

Sary Ann and I never got along very well ennyhow, and I hope for the sake of my peece of mind she won't come back again, and keep me awake cold winter nights warming her cold feet on my back.

I'm gitting turrible tired doing my own cooking, and I'm awful lonesome in the house all soul alone. Sary Ann had a mean disposishion, but she was better to have around than nothink a tall.

Soon as I kin git a bill from Sary Ann and git myself legally seperated from her, I'm going to spruce up and keep my eye open for a nother wife No. 2. Please write, ladies—Object, matrimony. I ain't very particular what kind of a wife I marry so she has got some money. Yours for a wife.

Ezra Crum.

P.S.—Notise: After puttin' in this add-ver-tizement I ketched on too the fact that my wife has run off with one of them actor-show troupes making movin' flim-flam pictures. So I won't pay no Reward a tall. They has went to the Thousand Ilands to get some fine scenery pictures, and I hope they stay a month on each Iland. Any unhappy hen-pecked wretch of a husband whose wife refuses to longer be his moving picture at home should let his wife get the movin' picture bee in her bonnet if he wants to get rid of her sooner. The Photo-Players Studio operatin a learning school for picture folks will train your wife to make a fool of herself and become a screen scream. Anybody suffering with a good-for-nothing wife who refuses to keep her husband in spending money by taking in washing and doing odd jobs around the neighborhood—besides taking care of her own brood of children and cooking 3 square meals a day for a honest law-abiding husband should call at the Photo-Players learning school—Heintzman Building, and get free advice about learning their wife how to make more money than staying at home.

are successfully treated by our expert operators. There is no blemish that the average woman so much abhors as that masculine disfigurement

Superfluous Hair

Because of extreme sensitiveness many ladies are impelled to resort to the use of applications that temporarily remove the hairs, but which soon increase and strengthen the growth. Our method of Electrolysis, which is the only sure treatment, is safe and assured satisfactory in each case, and is practically painless. Ladies tell our capable operators, "If I had only known this was all I'd have come years ago; it hurts no more than it did to pull the hairs."

Moles, Warts, Red Veins

POTASH & PERLMUTTER

Last season's greatest dramatic success was "Potash and Perlmutter," which depicted the quarrelling but devoted partners made famous by the Montague Glass stories in the Saturday Evening Post. The fact that this laugh-provoking entertainment will return to this theatre for a week's engagement beginning Monday night, December 13, will be welcomed by the thousands who were unable to get in on the occasion of the previous visit. The same production and a few changes in cast will mark the return visit. There will be given the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.
